

huān yíng lái Bā hù !

It's nice to meet you all,

I am very glad that you came to our school, Kodai Niko

This city, Hachinohe, is famous for its seafood and big industrial area.

Also we have many sites of the Jomon period which is about three thousand years ago.

So our city is one of the places which developed Japanese culture.

As you know,

China and Japan have been sharing the same cultures.

Japanese culture has been made by learning Chinese culture and changing it to our own style.

In that sense, China and Japan are very close.

Long time ago, unfortunately, there was a war between China and Japan. We still have many problems between our countries.

However, I'm sure that our countries can be good friends by deeply understanding each other through communication between young generations, like today.

I hope we can make today a special day for both of us!

Lastly, I think it is much colder here than your hometown.

So please keep warm and in order not to catch a cold.

Have a wonderful day.

Thank you.
